Geelong Orthopaedics takes your privacy seriously. Privacy protection and confidentiality of health information is essential for quality health care and we are committed to protecting the privacy and confidentiality of the information we handle about you.

This policy explains:

- how we collect, store, use and disclose your personal information
- how you may access your personal information
- how we protect the quality and security of your personal information
- how you may seek correction of any personal information we hold
- how you may make a complaint about our handling of your personal information

In addition to our profession and ethical obligations, at a minimum, our Practice handles your personal information in accordance with federal and state privacy law. This includes complying with the federal Australian Privacy Principles (APP's) forming part of the Privacy Act 1988 and the Victorian Health Privacy Principles (HPP's) forming part of the Health Records Act 2001 (Vic). From February 2018, further amendments require reporting of eligible data breaches that are likely to cause serious harm.

More information about the APP's and HPP's can be found on the Australian Information Commissioner's website www.oaic.gov.au

Collection of information

The Practice collects and holds personal information about you so that we may properly assess, diagnose, treat and be proactive in your health care needs.

The type of personal information we collect may include:

- personal details (name, address, date of birth, Medicare number)
- your medical history
- notes made during the course of a medical consultation
- referral to other health service providers
- results and reports received from other health service providers
- credit card or direct debit information for billing purposes

Wherever practicable we will collect this information from you personally – either at the Practice, over the phone, via written correspondence or via internet if you transact with us on line.

In some instances we may need to collect information about you from other sources such as referring Doctors, treating specialists, pathology, radiology, hospitals or other health care providers.

In an emergency, we may collect information from your immediate family, friends or carers.

Use and disclosure

Your personal information will only be used or disclosed for purposes directly related to providing you with quality health care, or in ways you would reasonably expect us to use it in order to provide you with this service.

This includes use or disclosure:

- to the professional team directly involved in your health care, including treating Doctors, pathology services, radiology services and other specialists outside this medical practice
For example, this may occur through referral to other Doctors when requesting medical tests or in the report or result returned to us following the referrals
- to the Practice's administrative staff for billing and other administrative tasks necessary to run our practice. Our staff are trained in the handling of personal information
- to your health insurance fund, Medicare or other organisations responsible for the financial aspects of your care
- where required by law, for example, pursuant to a subpoena
- to insurers or lawyers for the defence of a medical claim; and/or
- to assist with training and education of other health care professionals
- to collect information for research studies

Please notify us in writing if you do not wish for your information to be used for training of health professionals.

Our practice does not intend to disclose your personal information to overseas recipients.

Information quality

We aim to ensure the information we hold about you is accurate, complete, up to date and relevant. To this end our staff may ask you to confirm that your personal details are correct when you attend a consultation. Please let us know if any of the information we hold about you is incorrect or not up to date.

Storage

Our Practice takes all reasonable steps to protect the security of the personal information we hold by:

- securing our premises
- using passwords on all electronic systems and databases and varying access levels to protect electronic information from unauthorised interference, access, modification or disclosure
- storing hard copy records in secure filing cabinets or rooms that are accessible only to Practice staff

Access to your personal information

Under law you have a right to access personal information we hold about you. Please contact our Practice Manager for more information on our Access to Medical Records Policy.

We ask that you put your request in writing. A fee for the retrieval and copying of your medical record will apply, charged in accordance with the schedule of fees specified in the Health Records Regulations 2008 (Vic), plus GST. This fee is not redeemable through Medicare.

Amendment of your personal information

If you consider the information we hold about you is not correct, please contact the Practice in writing. You have the right to have any incorrect information corrected.

What happens if you choose to withhold your personal information?

You are not obliged to give us your personal information. However, if you choose not to provide the Practice with the personal details requested, it may limit our ability to provide you with full service. We encourage you to discuss your concerns with our staff prior to your first consultation or with your Doctor.

What about the use of personal information for direct marketing?

Australian privacy law limits the use of personal information for direct marketing of goods and services. We do not use your personal information for direct marketing.

What should I do if I have a complaint?

If you are not satisfied with our service, please contact us. We take complaints seriously and aim to resolve them quickly and fairly.

If you remain dissatisfied with our response, you may contact the Health Complaints Commissioner (HCC).

The HCC responds to complaints about health services and the handling of health information in Victoria. Their service is free, confidential and impartial. To lodge a complaint with the HCC:

Fill out a complaint form online at www.hcc.vic.gov.au or

Phone 1300 582 113 between 9am and 5pm, Monday to Friday to discuss your complaint.
